A HORSE OF OTHER DAYS.

As far as we can look ahead, the coming Derby does not promise much to excel that of last year, and we wonder what weight would have brought Gladiateur and Jeddah together? To such Derby winners as Sefton, Sir Visto, Sainfoin, Merry Hampton, Shotover and Sir Bevy, Gladiateur would have been able to give nearer 2st than a mere 7lb., and there is no more startling fact recorded in the Racing Calendar than that in the Cambridgeshire with a 5st. 7lb. minimum he should have started first favorite, notwithstanding that he was carrying the crushing weight for a three-year-old of 9 st. 12lb. and was handicapped to give to an animal that had won the Woodcote Stakes at Epsom no less than 52lb., and the same to such horses as Ostreger and Elland. What is more, such gigantic work was he putting in at the finish, after being chopped a bit at the start, that in another quarter of a mile he would probably have won. He never was a miler, though he won the Two Thousand. Gladiateur, it must be borne in mind, was not a fresh horse when he attempted his gigantic task in the Cambridgeshire. On the other hand, he had won the Two Thousand, Derby, St. Leger, Grand Prize of Paris, the Drawing-room Stakes at Goodwood, the Bentinck Memorial, the Doncaster Stakes, the Newmarket Derby, and the Grand Prix du Prince Imperial, the last-named, we may remark, being a two mile race that was run in Paris within a week or so of his winning two races at Doncaster. Gladiateur was a big, plain celt that had what is known as the "jumping bump" strongly developed and we have no doubt that he would have won the Grand National if he had been put to it.

The late Mr. F. Taylor, special commissioner of the Sportsman, who had the reputation of being one of the finest judges of a horse that ever wrote on the subject, once declared that unknown and with a few straws plaited into his mane and tail there was not a horse fair in England at which he would have fetched £50. And yet taking him point by point there was no pulling him to pieces, so much so indeed that Mr. Blenkinsop wagered with Mr. Jackson a very large sum that he was a better looking horse than the beautifully shaped Blair Athol. Captain Machell was one of the judges appointed to decide the matter, but the other we forgot. As it was not easy to settle a question of this description it fell through. We linger on the name of Gladiateur, because he had something to do with founding the fortune of this paper, which made its first appearance in the February of the year that he won the Derby. Up to that time no French horse had ever been even placed in the Derby, and it required a great deal to make Englishmen believe that a French horse would win it. He stood at 40 to 1 in the betting in the early months of 1865, but, notwithstanding this, a writer in this paper, known as "The Outsider," week after week with strange persistence spoke of him as almost sure to win, and when his prediction was realized, after in the meantime winning the Two Thousand Guineas, he was looked upon by a considerable portion of the public as one inspired. Gladiateur ran only three times at two years of age, winning the Clearwell Stakes in October, which was his first race, and being beaten by Bedminster for the Prendergast Stakes and Chattanooga for the Criterion Stakes. The form by no means indicated that he would win the Derby, but this the jockey might perhaps have explained.

During the winter there was a strong commission out to back Gladiateur, and "Peggy" Collins, who was one of the men put in, succeeded in getting 1,000 to 30 from a publican in the New

BROOKLYN AND SUBURBAN WEIGHTS.

The weights to be carried by the seventy-four entries in the Brooklyn and Suburban Handicaps were announced Tuesday night. In the main the imposts are intelligently placed. The horses and the weight allotted each in each race are given in the table below, together with the penalties and allowances on the basis of the scale of weights for age in May, when the Brooklyn is run, and in June, in which month the Suburban is decided. The table is printed as a companion to that printed in last Sunday's DAILY RACING FORM, which digested the form of the candidates for both handicaps:

North Road, and the highways and byways were scoured in this manner. That Fortune did her best for the "Frenchman" there can be no doubt; but she did this perhaps because it made no difference whether she helped him or not, as he was superior to her. Of the Derby favorites, the brilliant Liddington became a roarer and was scratched, and Chattanooga went the same way, and being kept in the race until the very last moment, there was much scandal, as he had been a great favorite. Within a very short time of the race a wave of

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Burns & Waterhouse will race on a large scale in the east next summer. This noted firm will send over the Rockies two strong stables. It will pick out the best horses and ship them to New York. They will be trained by Dan Stone, who has been in the employ of Burns & Waterhouse for several years. Napamox will be the brightest star and if nothing happens will go to the post in the Brooklyn. Charley Thorpe will do the riding for the far eastern stable. The second division will be under the charge of Mike Kelly, who will race at St. Louis and perhaps at Chicago. He will have about a dozen handy platers in his care. Burns & Waterhouse have engaged Joe Piggott to do their heavyweight riding and Devin, the promising lightweight, to do the rest. Both are capable pilots. Ben Timmons will stay in California and look after their horses on the ranch. Burns & Waterhouse have not encountered the best of success racing in the east.

Invariably their best performers have gone wrong, and were not in the race at all. It is hoped that their popular colors will be seen frequently in front next season. Pluck and enterprise always command admiration.—San Francisco Daily Racing News.

Tenby Changes Owners and Wins.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., January 31.—Tenby ran today as the property of S. S. Bender, he purchasing him by wire previous to his race from Patterson & Pierce of Memphis. Captain Rees occupied the stewards stand.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Last Friday's San Francisco Examiner says: "Charles Dwyer and Tod Sloan expect to leave early next week for Chicago and the far east. They will remain one week in the windy city and a week in New York. Then they will depart for England. Sloan wants to get across to the tight little isle and have plenty of time to prepare himself for the campaign. Young Mr. Dwyer will have a few horses in England himself and Tod will ride them if previous engagements do not prevent."

E. V. Snedeker, one of the best known trainers in the country, died suddenly at Morris Park Sunday, of heart disease. His health had been bad for some time. In his time Snedeker handled many noted racehorses. Kingston was perhaps his best. He brought this great horse out and raced him as a two-year-old, selling him afterwards to Dwyer Bros. for a long price. His death will be greatly deplored by the elder generation of turfmen.

It is designed by the Westchester Association to make Saturday, May 20, a red letter day of the meeting. On that date it is contemplated that the National Stallion race of $20,000 and the Grand National Steeplechase will be decided. These two events, in addition to others of less importance, should result in attracting an enormous crowd to Morris Park.

It now begins to look as though there will be no racing at Oakley next spring. Yesterday the old mule team that formerly worked in the harrows at the Cincinnati track was sold to the management of the Newport track. Oakley's sprinkling cart has been purchased by the Latonia track.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The work of covering the Latonia track with loam has been completed. Over 3,000 cart loads of new soil was put on the track this winter, and by next spring the Latonia track should be one of the fastest in the country.

Barney Schreiber has sold the three-year-old gelding Racivan to P. Ryan.

sickness passed over the southern stables, to which The Duke, Kangaroo and Wild Charlie fell victims, The Duke so badly that he could not run, and Gladiateur's task was made easy.
There was nearly, however, a slip. Harry Grimshaw, who rode Gladiateur, was short-sighted, and, coming down the straight on the high ground, was taking it so easily as to astonish Custance, who wondered what he was doing, and called out, "Don't you see Josh French next the rails and the lead he's got?"
French on Christmas Carol, and S. Adams on Eltham, both wearing white and black jackets, were battling on the low ground; but it was all over the moment that Grimshaw let Gladi-ateur have his head, and never was the complexion of a race altered more decisively in two strides than on this occasion. When the news reached France the joy was indescribable,
and the Jockey Club was illuminated.
Waterloo was, they said, avenged.
Early the following year he was sent to France, where, in April he won the Prix de l'Imperatrice, distance three miles and a furlong, at Paris, and at the same meeting he won a cup, two miles. "Bock agin" was then the order, and he was sent to Newmarket to be trained for the Ascot Gold Cup, but, not missing anything, he, in the meantime, walked over for two nice stakes in the Craven week.

Then came his battle with Regalia and Breadalbane for the Ascot Cup, for which he lost so much ground going down the hill on the far side that he was quite 200 yards behind, and Grimshaw was nearly pulling him up, thinking that he must have broken down. The next mile told another tale, and "won by forty lengths; Breadalbane beaten off and did not pass the post" is the official record. The equal to that we never witnessed. Appropriately enough, he wound up his turf career in his own country, where, in September, and in the presence of the Emperor, he won the Grand Prix de l'Empereur of £4,000, distance four miles. He was indeed a horse!—"Vigilant" in The Pink
'Un.

Winner—Blik. c. by Brutus—Ardenle.
Start good. Woa handily. Drive for third place between three. Espirando was best, is cherry ripe and had clear sailing. Anchored ran an improved race, made up a lot of ground and closed stoutly. Campus ran his race. He was lucky. Kacivan wasn't. He is good. Tab him. Grandezia was short. Don Gara's game is soft going. Yaruba was away slowly and shut off twice. Watch him and also Colonial Dame who had an easy race. Schnitz would not extend himself in the hard going.
Scratched—Bean Monde, 116.
Overweights—Yaruba, 5 pounds.
Espirando, place, 3 to 1; show, 6 to 5. Anchored, place, 6 to 1; show, 3 to 1. Campus, show 1 to 2. Racivan, show, 3 to 5.

Winner—B. c. by Duncombe—Orange Leaf.
 Start good. Won driving. Whalebuck was best and won like a good horse. He overcame bad luck and closed with great resolution. Is a good colt and a stayer. Rainier ran an honest race. He was lucky, but is good. Montanus is perhaps as good as the winner. Has class. He was short. Watch him. Sir Urian ran to the mark. He is good for his own kind. Espionage was nearly left and closed a lot of ground. Tab her. Stromo is but a sprinter. Monda may be watched in less select company. Ocorona was raced off her feet by Stromo.

place 7 to 5; above 3 to 5. Rainier place, 8 to 1; above 4 to 1. Six Union place, Winner—Ch. c. by Brutons—Mistleton. 1909, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1908.

Start stragling. Won quite handsly. Mistleton was much the best. He was cut off and pocketed and had no chance until well into the stretch, where he got through and passed the others with a rush. Tom Cromwell ran a good, honest race. He was shut off on the backstretch. Guilder showed fine speed and ran a good race. Alvero showed improvement. Robert Bonn ran as if short. He is good. Nonchalance and Billy McCloskey belong in slower company. Bob are stayers and in good condition.
Scratched—Lady Hurst, 109.
Mistleton, place, 4 to 5. Tom Cromwell, place, 1 to 2.

Winner—B. h. by Plevna—Abukru.
Start bad. Won pulling up. Abuse beat the gate and was never approached. Miss Rowe was the natural contender but she ran a half mile at speed in a false break and when the start came was exhausted. Peixotto ran his race. So did Sly. I Don't Know showed fine speed but quit in the stretch. Figaro broke down.
Peixotto, place, evens; show, 2 to 5. Lassen entry, show 6 to 5.
